Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 20 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry with sunny or bright skies. Turning unsettled from Wednesday.

Today:
Any mist or fog will quickly clear during the morning to leave a dry day with plenty of sunshine. A thin veil of high-level cloud will move in from the northwest during the afternoon, turning the sunshine hazy. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells in the south during the evening before all areas become cloudy overnight. Staying dry for most, though some fog patches may form by dawn. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tuesday:
Dry and bright on Tuesday, with thin high-level cloud. Southern areas may receive some patchy fair-weather cloud at times. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Patchy light rain and sunny spells on Wednesday before rain crosses the region later. Further outbreaks of rain on Thursday. Looking drier on Friday, though rain still possible. Windy throughout.
